

Starfire

Every line says "let yourself go" . . . where the action is!

You see it standing there, poised and eager, every sleek line tingling with anticipation. And it seems to whisper, "Let's go. Let's fly!" You pause only long enough to buckle into the leather-appointed bucket seat. Then, a turn of a key . . . a flick of the console-mounted T-stick Turbo Hydra-Matic or 4-on-the-floor—and 370 high flying horses put wings to your wheels! That's Starfire, the car that makes luxury a sporting proposition. Hear it calling? Let yourself go!
